Gahanna Against Surprise Politics

There is no budget crisis in Gahanna.

The City government has gone years spending grants and borrowed money and become accustomed to a certain level of spending.

Our city is vibrant, healthy and growing.

We can have the nice things that we want by being patient and allowing our community to grow into affording them.

Raising taxes seems like an easy fix, more money, a lot more money, to pour on problems and wishlists alike. Taxes and waivers have their own unseen consequences and cause new problems for our neighbors. Businesses may choose not to move here, businesses may close. Neighbors may be squeezed into moving, they will have less to spend in shops and donate to charity.

Our city is more than just the government, potholes, pools and parks.

If we want some things sooner we can donate and volunteer to get those things.

Gahanna does not have a budget crisis, we have a patience crisis.

We call on all residents to vote No on Issue 12 and show the city council that we can figure out our problems without squeezing our neighbors.
